

*Oh when you're smilin' keep on smilin'
The whole world smiles with you
Ah when you're laughin' keep on laughin'
The sun comes shinin' through.....*

That's what each of us needs to do to start our day off. Gaze into your spouse, significant other, or co-worker's eyes and give them a big, beautiful smile. It's contagious. Once you see someone smiling at you, usually just start smiling yourself.

But to have a beautiful smile, it ust does not happen on its own. You have had to work on it from when you were very young, and you remember needing to take care of your teeth and gums on a daily basis. Brushing, flossing, rinsing, gargling. All help keep your teeth sparkly white and your breath smelling "minty fresh"

And you know who helps you take care of these issues and do it in a timely manner – your friendly family dentist. What a time it is to be a part of Prospectors Club as one of our positions – dentist. One of our founding members – Bert Oettmeier DDS, has been a member from the Club's inception.

You see, Bert has been making smiles for over 37 years since graduating from UMKC School of Dentistry. After practicing for ten years or so, his mentors began telling Bert that it would be good if he began using his leadership skills and start giving back to to organization that had benefited him so much. He began working for local and national associations, wrote articles, and was a consultant with the American Dental Association.

Bert has always been a proponent of good dental health, regular check-ups, and education. He instilled that to his family as well as his patients. Prevention has proven to be the best way to combat major oral problems. Daily brushing, flossing, gargling, and regular check-ups are essential in maintaining a healthy mouth.

Bert thought that he would introduce a way to learn more about each member of the Club by asking them a list of several revealing questions. Here goes.

Trivia Question:-

What planet gave birth to Superman ?

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

The dry wind that blows down the east coast of the Rocky Mountains is the Chinook Winds.

Do You Have What It Takes To Visualize Something In Your Head and Put It To Paper or a Computer ?

Bert's earliest childhood memory he says was being able to fly in a small plane that gave him a view of the world he had not even imagined before. His favorite song is the theme from the movie "The Sting". Still on his bucket list is taking a trip into outer space on the Space Shuttle or whatever commercial flight will get him there in the near future.

He had a mentor, a coach in high school, that always told Bert that he should "always do your best – give it your best efforts." Don't worry if it bad or good, as long as you give your best efforts.

He is retiring so that he can start crossing off those things on his list he's always been wanting to do, and soon. You see, none of his ancestors in the Oettmeier family have lived past 68 years old. So a great excuse to begin a second healthier and less stressful life.

He is thankful for the support of his entire family, the people who are more than his patients – they are his friends, and respect for those that have preceded him and to those that follow.

That leads us to the exciting news of passing the torch to a family friend and person who Bert has watched grow up and has had his heart set on becoming a dentist since a young age – Tyler Webb DDS. Tyler is totally ready to transition into taking over Bert's practice. He has been working with Bert for quite a while, and now is familiar with the patients and their needs. It is so exciting to see what plans Tyler will be bringing to the practice and to see what his vision and focus will be in the next few years ahead.

So congratulations go to Bert on his newly found retirement, and we hope he will have more golf time, time to pursue being more healthy, to maybe take a music and voice class or two, and to work on projects at home as well as the Lake of the Ozarks. Bert may be retiring, but it sounds like he won't be slowing down anytime soon.

THANK YOU Bert for all your service to the Board and to the Club over these 37 great years !!!

PROSPECTOR EVENTS / NEWS / CHARITABLE CAUSES

Mike Kopplin of Kopplin's Wardrobe Management and Design is having a Summer Sample Sale and will be having some great deals on men's clothing and accessories. If you want more details on what is available, give Mike a shout at 913-927-3482.

Jeff Morgan along with Morgan Miller Plumbing will be organizing a coat drive in the near future for those that do not have a winter coat and desperately need one. More details will be forthcoming, so as you begin cleaning out your closets for fall, set a few gently used coats aside for Jeff's cause. And Kathleen Cussen at Hanger's Cleaners will be providing dry cleaning for those coats before they are donated.
