Years Ago IT Meant Something Totally Different Than IT Does Today.

Yeah back then, IT was Cousin It that was part of the Addams Family. But today IT has taken on a whole new meaning. Internet Technology - what makes our world go around. It is not the stuff you see when you turn on your computer, but the invisible code in html, or Java Script that makes what you see possible.

And how does all that “stuff” get to you and to whom you’re sending other “stuff”? It takes geniuses to make all that happen flawlessly. So when you or your company needs to make sure their systems are working or that our documents make it to where they are intended, you need the help and reassurance of a guy like Zach Bovard of Tight Solutions to make sure all is well in YOUR IT world.

Zach has been a part of the intriguing world for nearly 20 years, and is still learning something new every day. He was always inquisitive about new technology and got his first computer at a young age. (And to think what our phones do now that his computer didn’t back then!)

Basically Zach is a Technology Consultant. He gives companies advice on how to leverage technology to achieve objectives. He take a top down approach to understanding your business. As partners, he works to understand your culture, processes, and technology to provide the best solutions for your business challenges.

Once you establish growth in your company, the use of servers helps enhance the data process, and streamlines your functionality. Tight Solutions helps make those systems highly manageable. They document the tasks that need to be, and provide the needed support at whatever level is necessary.

Now make no mistake - even though Zach "knows computers", that does not mean he "repairs" them. If you need computers, he has great vendor relationships that enable him to meet your needs, make sure you have the best warranties possible, and the expertise from those vendors to get you up and running, or to enhance your current system.

You see, he acts as a CIO for many small businesses. He is constantly trying to maximize uptime to its limits and reducing lost productivity. You don’t want or need to worry about this - let Zach do that.

He gets word when something goes wrong - a server down, a Trojan virus, a crashed unit. Most of the time he can remotely access the issues and solve it without even being on premises. Amazing what can be done in today’s IT universe.

Zach has very stable roots. He is so fortunate to have a family support group, with a loving wife and three amazing kids (includes twin girls). And he is a legacy when it comes to Prospectors. His father, John Bovard, of Bovard Insurance Group, was a big contributor to the Club’s personality serving as its President and on its Board, and adding his own style and flair to who we are today.

So every day, you sit at your computer (you are there right NOW). But do you know some of the ways to make your experience better and faster? Zach provided us with but a few of them last week.

F5 key - allows you to refresh any of your web pages you are on, files you are using, etc.

Ctrl End and Ctrl Home - lets you jump from where you are on a web page or in a document to go to the end of it, or back to the beginning instantly.

Alt Tab - Zach says this is the ONLY way to be able to move between programs.

Esc - the BEST key on the keyboard. You can use this key to clear lots of stuff out and get out of it fast.

We are sure there are many more shortcuts that you can investigate yourself but what a nice way to speed up your time spent searching the Web or working on your files.

Zach works with mostly small to medium sized businesses so that entails most of us. If you are in need of an upgrade or better solutions to running your IT Department more efficiently, then the answer is easy - get in touch with Zach and let him show you what is really possible. Thanks Zach for taking the time to keep us all connected with social media and getting ourselves online and noticed. Keep up the great work.
