

Every Day We Find That Love is Global. How Two People Can Find a Connection and Make a Life Leaves Hope for Us All

They say it's true – we are who we come from. Interesting to have a blend of two cultures, one from Ireland and one from Italy. Irish Italian is the convolution that brings excitement, love, and fun to a family. Grow up in this environment and you see the world in a different light.

This is where you, from a young age, learn from your elders. You see how hard your grandfather worked to provide for your parents so they can give YOU the life they did not have. You tuck that idea away, and later as you grow and learn, it comes back to inspire and educate. That is what sparked Rich Sirna and his brother Bill to commit themselves to starting Sirna Bros. Hauling and Debris Removal just a few short years ago.

Rich told of their growing up surrounded by delicious foods, and two grandmothers that were fabulous cooks. Rich has taken on learning their techniques and now prides himself in making great sauces and meatballs. Tasting is what proves his efforts a success!

Bill and Rich have one goal in mind – help people by getting rid of their trash, debris, and junk they cannot do by themselves. They readily do this each and every day, each so different from the next. What items they haul that's not trash is either recycled or donated. Sometimes they sort it on site, and others they haul it back to their storage facilities.

The have options using just a small truck for 1-2 bigger items all the way to one with a hydraulic lift and they can even work with filling a 14 yard long dumpster for major jobs. It's now spring, and many are doing whole house cleanouts to get ready to sell a home whose parents have passed or they're downsizing. And they have seen their share of horders too. Recently they had a woodworker hobbyist who had lots of great lumber he wanted out! The Sirna's found a new home for all that material.

They even have people shop them for appliances and furniture so it all ends up being repurposed.

Sometimes they are contracted for light demolition work, anything from a small kitchen or bathroom demo to an entire home. They most recently helped clean out several old historic buildings downtown.

Rich and Bill are fortunate to have several of their kids working along side them, learning the same ideals they learned from their Grandpa. Also a new part of the biz is getting a home "contract ready" to sell. A nice way to be sure the home sells quickly. And they now recycle copper and aluminum metals, and toners and printers from the demos and clean outs.

Suffice it to say they have reached but the tip of the iceberg and there is much to come for Sirna Bros. Company. None of us are getting younger and neither are our contemporaries. So when your need arrives and you need to declutter, better call Rich or Bill Sirna and let them fire up their trucks for the ready. Thanks Rich (and Bill) for bringing help, culture, and a lot of fun to those you associate with. Your humor and skill set are both stellar. And thanks Rich for your service to the Club and the charitable organizations you support!
