Isn’t it amazing what a few days with temperatures at or above 32 degrees will do for your spirits? We returned to our regular schedule last week to lots of networking, catching up on what’s new, and waiting in anticipation of hearing about something most of us don’t know that much about. The subject of Feng Shui.

And we don’t know WHY we know so little, being the art of Feng Shui has been around for thousands of years getting its beginnings in Chinese culture. You may not have known this, but we actually have Kansas City’s Feng Shui Expert as a member – Robyn Stevens of Robyn Stevens’s Feng Shui is just that expert (how many times can you get the words Feng Shui in a paragraph?)

Robyn was a part of a typical Midwest family, never knowing whether they were rich or poor because they just had fun and learned a lot growing up. Robyn was rather shy at a younger age. She found out early to get what you want, if you work for it you can have it (she saved a little at a time to get a pair of tennis shoes she loved).

College gave Robyn a fresh start in a totally new environment where no one knew her. She “found her voice” at Pittsburg State and never looked back.

She met her husband Bob on a canoe trip one summer, spending the whole day sharing a canoe and not ever finding out his name until her sister asked who she was with. Sis said “Is that Bob?” and Robyn replied Yes. The rest is history.

So you ask – Feng Schwhat ??

It was her sister-in-law that introduced her to Feng Shui. After a bit of learning, she took a room in her home that was in disarray, and not telling Bob, spent a day or two and completely rearranged and organized it according to the dictates of this art form. Bob was taken back, and he too became a believer.

So Feng Shui is really a Chinese art or science in which a structure or site is chosen or configured so as to harmonize with the spiritual forces and energy that inhabit it involving the orientation, placement, or arrangement of its items according to the precepts of Feng Shui.

After several other positions in the retail, tax, and service industries and partnering in a home furnishings business, she decided to immerse herself into Feng Shui intensively over a 6 month period. Boom! That got her ready to make the leap of faith.

“I’m building and changing something!” was how excited she felt about this new venture. She says how slow the Midwest is to adapt learning about Feng Shui as it is so popular on both coasts. She started in earnest in 2013 and has been at it for 5 years. Robyn now does consultations for both homes and businesses, holds classes to learn the techniques for you to do this, and she has different retail products that enhance the science of Feng Shui.

You may have seen her on several local TV segments explaining the ins and outs of her business and what Feng Shui can do. And she gladly speaks whenever she is asked professing her expertise.

Trivia Question:-

Where did the Beatles perform their first US concert?

The shape of the home, the location of different rooms, windows, and doors, how the furniture is arranged, colors of the walls and carpet, kinds of art and how it is hung – all of this relates to their symbolism as part of the energy that your space emits. And it all counts! There is a thing called a Bagua Map (pronounced Baw-gwa). An energy map if you will – depicting 9 life categories in your home or business. There is an order to how energy is distributed determining such things as health, prosperity, love, and family to name a few.

So has hearing about this thing called Feng Shui sparked an interest in knowing more? Well, it’s your lucky day. Robyn didn’t have time last week to offer her free gift to you – the chance for her to orient the Feng Shui in your own home or business. Just get her a floor plan / drawing of the rooms, larger furniture layout, desks, chairs, windows and doors, and let the fun begin. And she says there will not be any charge for this great opportunity to see how Feng Shui could make a difference in your lives. So give her a call, or bring your drawing of home or work to breakfast this Thursday.

Thank YOU Ms. Stevens for bringing us into a new world of excitement and adventure, and a map to health, wealth, and happiness that lies ahead for all !!!

“Am a believer. I found simple changes really do make for dramatic results. Almost immediately after a consultation with Robyn, one client referred another and THAT client has referred at least a dozen new clients, most within a 6-month period.”
