

Form. Function. Family. How to Create a Living Space that is Truly You.

Know it's been said before, but it still holds true. Your home is your castle. It is where you spend the best part of your life. Eating. Relaxing. Resting. Sleeping. Sharing with family and friends. So you want it to be YOU. You want it to be cozy and comfortable, functional. But sometimes getting it "there" is a challenge. Many can't do it themselves. They need help. They need a decorative touch. So why not ask someone that has an ear for listening to what you like and do, and have her offer suggestions on how to achieve what you want and need.

Wish we knew someone who could do all this. Oh wait – we do! That person is but a phone call away – you need to talk to Janine Terstriep of The Decorative Touch Ltd.

Janine is ready to listen and hear what you are wanting to accomplish and then help you make those difficult decisions of which direction to go. She truly loves what she does – each morning ready to face another challenge given to her by her clients.

What we learned about Janine is she is part of a large family of brothers and sisters, who grew up very close to each other despite the range of ages. They loved their family gatherings growing up and still hold to these traditions today. They still plan an amazing family trip every other year, allowing for the planning to occur on the off year. They all love being in the outdoors, hiking, camping, fishing, or just hanging out being family.

The Decorative Touch offers anyone solutions to your interior design and decorating needs. She has worked to establish a great reputation both here in Metro KC as well as around the country. She has clients in many locales, which allows her the chance to combine work and travel. Janine can scale from something simple like adding a few new furniture pieces, to bedroom or bath remodels, and new home construction, which she specializes in. By hiring her to assist here, it takes a lot of the decision-making out of the homeowner's hands, or lets them be a part of the process.

Her most recent endeavor she explained was being asked to design a model home on this year's Parade of Homes Tour. She started in May with but a frame, and took it from the sheet rock to a completely finished model home ready to show. She picked out all the features – from floor to ceiling. Yes – that includes flooring and carpeting, paint colors and wallpaper or texture, room furniture, fixtures, lighting, window treatments, pillows, wall adornments – the list is amazing. She decided what's going in each room, having a vision of the end result in her head. She thought of the appeal to a demo of ages 35 to 45 years old. But in the end, the builders loved what she had visualized. It was ready to go by September 22nd.

Janine also loves the smaller projects that can make a huge difference in your home's look and feel. It has taken her years to learn her craft. As Janine states – "It's a true journey". To her, everything has a function. She also told us of Sherwin Williams picking the Color of the Year as Cavern Clay (a warm terracotta color with ancient, elemental roots), which ends up being a perfect color to blend other accessories for a little girls bedroom with matching bedspreads, pillow shams and window coverings.

She ended by stating that you could take a look about every 7 years and see if you are ready for a change – a freshen up if
